

| Index   | Digitized File Name        | Donated By | Donation Date | Date of Writing | Title                                                                    | Written By        | Written to/For                                 | Locations Mentioned                                                                                                                                                 | Handwritten or Typed | Descriptive Notes                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Additional People Mentioned/ Signatures                               | Accession Number                                                             | Date Indexed | Initials |
|---------|----------------------------|------------|---------------|-----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|----------|
| D37.5.1 | D37.5.1 Peter Hoff Letter  | Unknown    | Unknown       | July 3 1847     | N/A                                                                      | Thomas Van Gilden | Peter Hoff                                     | Tuckahoe, New York                                                                                                                                                  | Handwritten          | A letter to Peter Hoff asking for his immediate reply as to when he will be coming to Thomas Van Gilden to pick up the flax that Gilden will have ready for the mill in 3 weeks, as well as the lengthm thickness, and quantity that he wants                                                                                                             | Thomas Van Gilden, Peter Hoff                                         | 647C (old accession data, does not correlate with current accession records) | 5/28/2026    | KRO      |
| D37.5.2 | D37.5.2 Virgil W. Caldwell | Unknown    | Unknown       | 1913            | New YearWith Sincerest good Wishes for A Merry christmas and A Happy | J.M. Macfarlane   | New Year Memories of Summer days in New Jersey | Philadelphia, Sea Isle, Corson's Inlet, Ocean city, Ocean View, Casco Bay, London, Paris, New York, Tuckahoe, Cedar Swamp, Formosa Farm, Mount Pleasant, Petersburg | Typed                | A book written by J.M. Macfarlane telling the story of the summer himself and other biology students spent at the Sea Isle Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania in 1892, before the lab was shut down, and of the students' experiences with Peter Hoff on his nearby farm. It appears this was sent as a holiday present to a Virgil W. Caldwell | J.M. Macfarlane, Peter Hoff, John Ryder, Asa Gray, Virgil W. Caldwell | N/A                                                                          | 5/28/2026    | KRO      |